A WAIT DECISION OF GOV. SMITH IN MRS. SNYDER CASE

Attorneys Delay State S. A. R. President Next Move Pending Issues Warning Against Smith's Decision Wave Of Radicalism

Not Likely That New York Governor Will Grant Any Reprieve

DECISION MAY NOT COME TILL THURSDAY

Attorneys For Mrs. Snyder And Gray To Plan New Action

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The next effort to save Ruth Brown Snyder and Henry Judd Gray from the electric chair will not be made until Governor Alfred E. Smith has announced his decision on the pleas for clemency recently made in Albany by counsel for the condemned pair.

Governor Smith, who attended a ball in this city last night, intimated that he may not announce his decision until next Thursday, perhaps only a few hours before the blonde widow and her former lover are scheduled to be executed in the electric chair for the murder of the woman's husband.

See No Reprieve
In the opinion of persons who witnessed the clemency hearing in Albany, Governor Smith will not grant the slayers a reprieve.

Edgar P. Hazleton, chief of counsel for Mrs. Snyder, is still hopeful of saving her life.

"I have not decided what steps I shall take until the governor announces his decision."

Motor Violators Of Late In 1927 May Escape Penalty

Motor violators who were arrested prior to January 1, and bound over for the March term of court may escape any punishment for their actions, because of a loophole in the present motor code.

The new motor code fails to provide a saving clause which would hold offenders under the law that went into effect on January 1, and unless the Department of Justice hands down a decision holding such offenders their cases may be null and void.

District Attorney Bryan is adopting the same policy as that of District Attorney Otto Herbst of Erie county, that of watchful waiting. Mr. Bryan said that he did not care to express an opinion in the matter until such time as the Attorney-General's office handed down an opinion in it.

Rogers Hungry as He Goes to Jackson Dinner

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 7.—Leaving here for the Jackson Day dinner in Washington, D. C., where we will open bids for the Democratic nomination, Al Smith can't come as a New Yorker. He's never been that far away from home.

He sent message of ninety thousand words, which the toastmaster will read.

I am not interested in who they nominate that night or in anybody's message of regrets, but I do hope they will have plenty to eat.

John L. Walker Speaks At Annual Gathering Of Lawrence County S. A. R.

Tells Members Of Patriotic Duty At Present Time On Law Enforcement

"Our society will be of no benefit, either to the Commonwealth, or to the United States of America if we, the Sons of the American Revolution, do not seek to quell the diatribes of radicalism now sweeping the nation, and especially when they emanate from the editors of school and university publications," was the warning against the Liberal movement issued by John L. Walker, president of the Pennsylvania state society of the Lawrence county chapter S. A. R. held Friday evening in the dining room of the Elks club. Conneaut, O., Youthful Slayer Put To Death At Columbus Prison Friday Night

Youngest Prisoner In Annals Of Ohio State Pays For Brutal Double Slaying

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 7.—The body of 17-year-old Floyd Hewitt, convicted murderer from Conneaut, O., who was electrocuted in the Ohio State penitentiary here last night for the killing of little Fred Brown, Jr., 5, last February 14, was awaiting completion of final funeral arrangements. The body was to be taken back to Conneaut, the home of his parents, for burial today.

With just a trace of tears in his eyes, Ohio's youngest "electric chair victim" was led into the death chamber at the penitentiary at 7:40 o'clock last night. Clad in his hand was a picture, a family group of his father, mother and sister. Denying his guilt to the very last, the 17-year-old lad stood up bravely in his last few minutes.

Youngest Electrocuted
The youth was the youngest person ever to be electrocuted in the State penitentiary, and the first to be convicted of first degree murder without a recommendation for mercy in Ashland county. One other youth younger than Hewitt was executed in the penitentiary Warden P. E. Thomas said.

Hewitt was convicted by a jury of four women and eight men for one of the most brutal murders in the criminal history, a double killing at Conneaut when a mother, Mrs. Fred Brown, and her five year old son, Fred, Jr., were beaten to death.

Marine Chief To Visit Nicaragua; Plans Inspection

Major General LeJeune, Commandant Of Marine Corps, To Sail For Nicaragua

SCOFFS AT IDEA ABOUT DESERTERS

Brigadier General Feland Accompanies LeJeune To Take Command Of Forces

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Major Gen. John A. LeJeune, commandant of the marine corps, will sail for Nicaragua on Monday. He will be accompanied by Brig. Gen. Logan Feland, who is to assume active command of the marine forces chasing Gen. Sandino, and 1,000 troops being sent to Nicaragua to reinforce those on the front.

LeJeune will make a personal inspection tour of all the marine camps in Nicaragua, and then return to the United States by way of San Diego. It is understood he was actuated in going to the scene of operations by the reverses the marines have suffered in their efforts to wipe out Sandino's rebels.

Laugh At Story
Marine corps officials, including the commandant, laughed today over reports that Sandino's rebels were being trained by marine deserters. The only basis for the story, LeJeune said, was the fact that two marines were dropped from the rolls last September for desertion.

"Imagination has supplied the rest," he said. "To have joined Sandino the two men would have had to travel 125 miles inland on foot and that doesn't appear reasonable. As a matter of fact we have reason to believe the two deserters smuggled themselves aboard a ship bound for the United States and are now in this country."

Lieutenant Commander Baylis Of Destroyer Paulding Denies Responsibility

Destroyer That Rammed S-4 Not On Active Smuggling Duty, Baylis Says

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD, BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Lieut. Commander John S. Baylis, commander of the coast guard cutter Paulding, today denied vehemently any responsibility for the collision of his vessel with the submarine S-4, which was rammed and sent to the bottom of Provincetown Harbor with its crew of forty.

Volunteers Story
Commander Baylis, appearing as a witness before the navy court of inquiry investigating the disaster, volunteered his story of the crash with the S-4 "but not as a defendant."

The witness said he had 26 years sea service in the merchant marine and revenue service.

Commander Baylis carefully avoided any direct reference to the Paulding's assignment to the duty of "rum chasing" but described his duties as "identifying vessels," and "scrutinizing."

"On the day of the collision we were engaged mostly in inspection and identifying fishing vessels," the witness said.

Intrepid American Good Will Flier Expresses Hope For Commercial Air Lines

(International News Service)
MANAGUA, Jan. 7.—Pursuing his aerial course of goodwill from the United States to Central American republics, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, was to take off today for San Jose, Costa Rica.

After a good night's rest, the flying colonel spent most of the morning going over his plane, the Spirit of St. Louis. He was expected to leave shortly before noon.

The highlight of Col. Lindbergh's reception yesterday came when, before the assembled Nicaraguan congress, he was presented a gold medal by President Diaz. In a speech accepting the honor, Col. Lindbergh said:

Lindy Speaks
"Mr. President: I can hardly express my gratitude for the distinction you and the citizens of Nicaragua have extended to me since my arrival in this city. In accepting the medal I myself, and in the name of our American people, return my sincere thanks."

"I firmly believe that after my flight to this country, others will follow and in the near future I expect to see a commercial air service established between the United States and Central America for the mutual benefit of all."

The young aviator was entertained at a sumptuous luncheon given by the Cabrerias, a wealthy conservative family, at their coffee plantation.

Reed Committee Reopens Probe Of Election Fraud

Samuel Insull Will Have Chance To Purge Self Of Inquiry Contempt Charges

SENATOR SMITH TO GET NEW HEARING

Insull Appears Willing To Talk About Election Monies Spent In Illinois

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Reed slush fund investigation was reopened today to give Samuel Insull, multimillionaire utility magnate a chance to purge himself of contempt charges and Senator-elect Frank L. Smith (R.) of Illinois, a chance to plead anew for his seat in the senate.

Insull came before the committee at his own request to reveal how he got $40,000 of his money in the Illinois election of 1926. The magnate already told the committee of a $125,000 gift to Smith's campaign a gift of $15,000 to George E. Brennan, the Democratic senatorial candidate, and of spending $33,735 more in behalf of Smith.

The contempt charges grew out of Insull's refusal to reveal any other contributions made in the same campaign just prior to the filing of contempt charges against him in the senate. Insull appeared and said the other contributions totaled $40,000 but he refused to reveal the names of the recipients. The senate failed to act on the contempt charges last March because of a filibuster against legislation.

During the long congressional recess Insull suffered a change of heart and when the senate convened in December "offered to tell all."

In the meantime, however, Harry Sinclair, the multimillionaire oil king had been convicted of contempt and given a three months prison sentence in the District of Columbia supreme court for a similar refusal to testify before a senate committee.

Insull brought with him his personal attorney, Daniel J. Schuyler who also faced contempt charges because he refused to tell what moneys he handled for the utility magnate. Schuyler once told the committee he gave $3,600 to Smith's campaign fund but limited his testimony to that.

Four Identified.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Four additional bodies recovered from the bulk of the submarine S-4 have been identified as follows, the navy department announced today:

Lt. Commander Wm. F. Callaway of Clinton, Mo., a member of the board of inspection of the navy department who was aboard the submarine on her trial run.

Fred H. O'Shields, engineer, Atlanta, Ga.

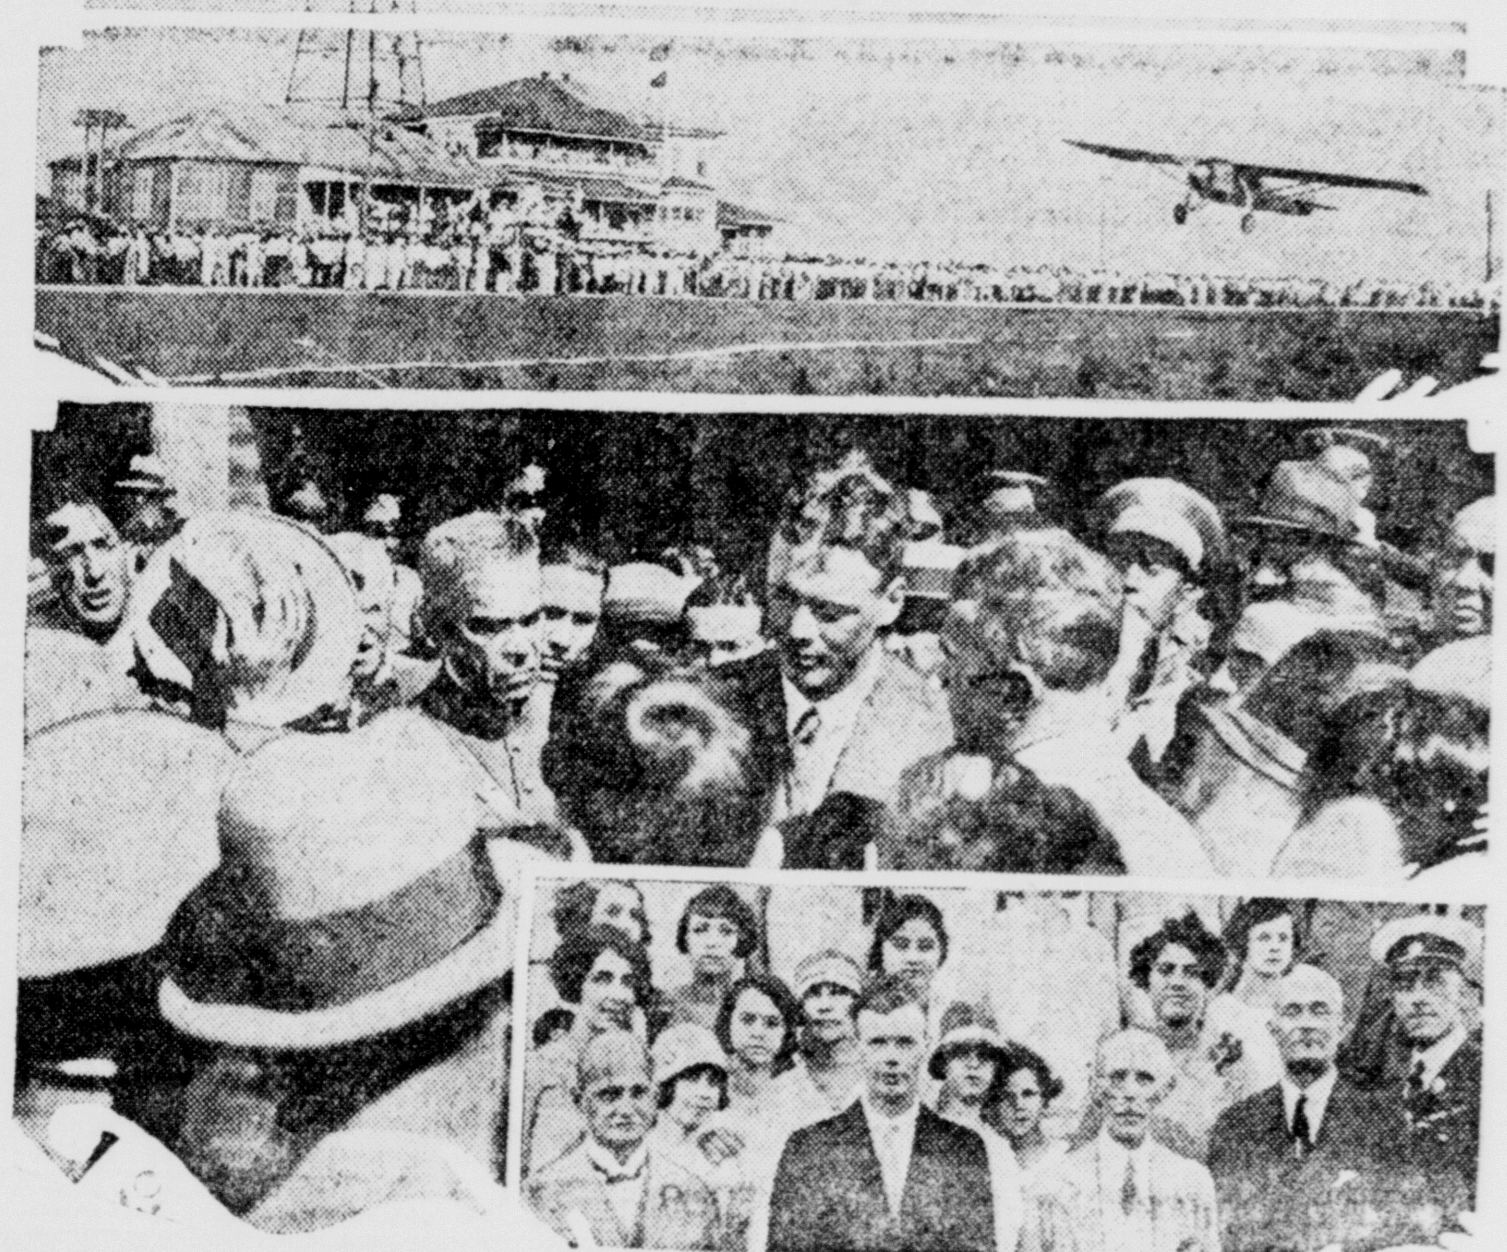

Carl H. Thompson, fireman, Rockmart, Ga.

Commander Callaway will be buried in Arlington cemetery, the body of Thompson will be sent to the presidio for burial and White's body will be sent to his parents in Rockmart.

Remus Is Taken To Lima Asylum

Cincinnati Man Suddenly Gives Up Battle To Secure Freedom

TAKEN TO LIMA FRIDAY EVENING

(International News Service)
LIMA, Ohio, Jan. 7.—George Remus, bootlegger and lawyer, who killed his wife, Imogene, and then defended himself so effectively that a jury found him "not guilty on sole grounds of insanity" today was in the state asylum for the criminally insane at Lima, Ohio.

Late yesterday, Remus suddenly abandoned his legal fight for freedom and announced that he was ready to go to the state hospital at once.

Earlier in the day Common Pleas Judge Charles S. Bell had dismissed his application for a writ of habeas corpus. His appeal from the lunacy finding of Probate Judge William Luaders, ordering that he be committed to the state hospital, was still pending but Remus evidently decided that he could gain his liberty more readily after being committed to Lima than by fighting the matter out in Hamilton county courts.

He asked that he be transferred as quickly as possible to the asylum and county authorities granted the request. Within a few hours he was on a train, bound for Lima.

Home And Contents Destroyed By Fire; Loss About $12,000

Residence Of C. E. Rummell Near Hillsville Is Total Loss, This Morning

Large two story frame house of C. E. Rummell two miles south west of Hillsville was totally destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock this morning with a loss estimated at $12,000 on building and contents. Practically nothing in the way of furniture was saved.

The fire originated in the kitchen and had gained considerable headway when discovered. It is believed that it may have been caused by a defective flue. When word was telephoned to Hillsville that the house was on fire a large number of citizens rushed to the scene but were powerless to do anything except to devote their efforts to saving other buildings on the place.

The house was located just across the Ohio state line from the residence of Milo Paden, whose home is in this county.

Squire J. H. Eakin of Hillsville, in discussing the fire was unable to give any definite information as to insurance. He says that the house was a large square structure and was one of the best in the neighborhood.

Famous Landmarks In London Are Under Water; Fear Increase In Death Toll

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Jan. 7.—As more complete checks were made today it was feared 19 persons were drowned when the Thames burst its banks in the heart of London and flooded the adjacent sections.

Reports coming in during the late morning showed the flood waters extended from Hammersmith to Southend, at the mouth of the river.

The low-lying, crowded sections adjacent to the river were badly flooded and it was feared that the death toll would be greatly increased when the full effects of the unexpected inundation became known.

Streets Flooded
The banks burst shortly after one a.m. when an exceptionally high tide meeting the flood waters forced the river up to a dangerous level. The streets alongside the river were quickly submerged.

The water rose to the top of the embankments along practically their entire length, from Lambeth to Blackfriar, a magnificent stretch of road constituting one of London's most imposing highways.

For that is the day that the eagle screams, and the ghost does his weekly walk, and that is the day that the rent is paid and the diamonds are taken from hock. And that is the day that the lady friends are feted and given a treat, oh the joys of Sunday and Wednesday are much, but Saturday holds all the sweet. Oh sing if you can of the Monday morn, the Monday that's known as blue, but me I'll sing of the Saturday, the weather is forty-two.

Aged Executioner Ready For Double Duty On Monday

Two Pennsylvania Slayers To Die In Electric Chair On Monday Morning

(International News Service) ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 7.—Robert Elliott, gray-haired professional executioner, who will electrocute Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray at Sing Sing on January 12, will electrocute two "subjects" here early Monday morning.

Elliott, self-styled "scientific executioner" is expected here in time to officiate at the executions of Raymond Winter, slayer of two children near Pittsburgh, and William Meyers, killer of a Philadelphia policeman. The men are to begin their death march shortly before 7 a. m. on Monday, January 9.

Last hope for the two condemned men has passed.

An attaché at the prison said that Elliott is present here only a short time before and after the electrocutions. "He'll hurry away shortly after he does his job," the attaché said.

Elliott has boasted that his "scientific method" of electrocution precludes any possibility of suffering by his "subjects."

The executioner is a mystery figure here, stealing into the prison shortly before the death march begins, and holding no conversation with anyone.

to the prison near Bellefonte. He said goodbye to several prisoners who called to him as he was led past their cells.

The prisoner showed no signs of breaking under the severe strain, though he did tell his guards that he was not feeling well. His father, mother and brother followed the sheriff's party to the Pennsylvania railroad station, and bade him a tearful farewell.

Resigned to Fate

Winter is resigned to his fate. He does not expect that anything will or can be done between now and next Monday morning to prevent his death in the electric chair, though he repeatedly maintains his innocence.

He was found guilty of the first degree murder of little Alex and Helen Sabo, miners' children, who were lured to their deaths by a stranger who offered them candy. A storekeeper who sold the candy identified Winter as the buyer.

Winter served overseas and his counsel claimed he suffered from shell-shock, which affected his mentality. No motive ever was established for the murders. The slayer led Alex and Helen to a creek near Castle Shannon and beat in their heads with stones, which later were found nearby, blood spattered.

Temporary barricades were being erected at the broken embankments in an attempt to stem further encroachments by the waters.

Many members of Parliament, living adjacent to Westminster, turned out and aided the police in their work of rescue.

Special Train Is Here With B & O Movies Of Recent Baltimore Fair

In September and October 1927, the Fair of the Iron Horse was held in Baltimore, Md., by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. But to see it one had to go to Baltimore. Now the Fair of the Iron Horse is being taken to the people, through the medium of the motion picture.

Today the Iron Horse Special is in New Castle, a train of three coaches, one of which has been converted into a motion picture theatre, another a power plant for the picture machine and the third the living quarters of the men who are with W. W. Wood, superintendent of Safety and Welfare, who is in charge of the train.

An Historical Picture

The motion pictures of the Fair of the Iron Horse are historical in that they show the development of the art of transportation in America from the time of the primitive stage coach, down to the present day of giant mail engines.

All the pomp and circumstance of the fair held in Baltimore in September and October are shown in the film which takes an hour to project. Many celebrities, among them Henry Ford, Daniel Willard, Governor Ritchie were present and these men are seen. Pictures of the crowds and the pageants are shown and one finds himself engrossed as the picture unwinds itself.

Here Tonight.

It was at first decided to take the train out of New Castle this afternoon and Terminal Trainmaster J. B. Thoman had made arrangements for this movement. The picture met with such hearty approval this morning, however, that Mr. Wood was persuaded to bring it to the Mill and Division street tracks of the company this afternoon. Three shows will be seen tonight, one at seven, one at eight and one at nine o'clock. The admission is free and employees and friends of the B. & O. are invited to avail themselves of the opportunity. The limit of the coach-theaters is 80 and for this reason, three shows will be given.

The Iron Horse Special is a pet project of Daniel Willard, president of the B. & O. railroad. So successful was the Fair of the Iron Horse held in Baltimore, and so valuable was it from an historic standpoint that Mr. Willard determined to send the pictures of it over the entire system of the B. & O. This will take a year's time and a large outlay of money but the B. & O. wants the public to see this historic pageant of transportation.

Lindbergh Leaves Managua, Bound For Costa Rican City

Lindbergh Starts On Sixth Leg Of Good-Will Tour To Central America

(International News Service) MANAGUA, Jan. 7.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh headed south again today on the sixth leg of his good-will flight over Central America.

Colonel Lindbergh took off from Managua at 11:03 a. m. local time, and turned the nose of the "Spirit of St. Louis" over Lake Nicaragua with San Jose, Costa Rica, as his goal.

Today's route lies over a mountainous country, over the peaks of extinct volcanoes and heavily wooded areas, providing Colonel Lindbergh decided upon a direct air-line route. It was thought possible however that the aviator might choose to head for the coast and take a longer route in hopes of finding more landmarks to fly by.

The flight from Managua to San Jose is approximately 205 miles in a direct line, but probably Colonel Lindbergh will fly closer to 250 miles. He expects to make the flight in about two hours.

Uniontown Will Get 1928 Meeting Of State Firemen

(International News Service) POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 7.—The 1928 convention of the Pennsylvania State Firemen's association will be held in Uniontown, instead of Pottsville as originally announced, it was reliably reported here today.

The announcement was made after a meeting of the board of trustees at which a communication from Fred Zeiser, president of the association, was read. It was understood Zeiser favored Uniontown, which made a strong bid for the 1928 meeting at the recent convention at Shamokin. While the board took no official action, it was understood Zeiser's wishes in the matter would be respected.

The association is the largest of its kind in the United States, comprising several thousand volunteer fire fighters.

in membership because of the limitations that are imposed," Mr. Walker continued, "it does not mean that there are not others who are every whit as patriotic as we are, and in some cases, even more so. But we, the Sons, and as someone has said, the favored sons, should be the most law abiding, and we should also see that the laws of the country are enforced. No body of citizens should unite more closely for good government than the Sons of the American Revolution."

Warns Members

"The society should be of no benefit if it failed in its fundamental principle. The members should know that at the present time an insidious propaganda is being carried on by those who please to call themselves the cognoscents of our land. They labor the flag under which they live, and the system of democracy for which our Revolutionary ancestors gave their lives."

"While we should not be hero worshipers, yet we should be thankful for our wonderful heritage. We should be leaders in reaction against those who seek to tear down American institutions."

The work of the Sons of the American Revolution was then discussed by Mr. Walker, and he concluded his talk by calling the attention of the Lawrence county chapter to the banquet, to be held in Pittsburgh, Friday, January 20, which will be attended by Governor John S. Fisher, and Ernest E. Rodgers, president general of the national society.

Mr. Walker was introduced to the assemblage by retiring president Charles Young. Homer Drake made the speech of welcome.

Brings Greetings

Vice President of the State society H. L. McKean then spoke a few words to the Lawrence county chapter, and solicited their aid in finding unmarked graves of Revolutionary soldiers. He was followed by A. W. Wall, treasurer of the state society, who declared the Lawrence county chapter to be in better financial condition than any other in the state.

Because of the illness of E. F. G. Harper, C. H. Akens had to carry both sides of a debate "Evolution versus Revolution." Mr. Akens contended that evolution means the eventual centralization and standardization of everything, while revolution stands for the theory of giving every individual an equal chance. Individualism is passing out of the national picture, he declared, but he further stated that the individualism of the American boy was the deciding factor which turned the tide of the recent World War.

The Rev. P. G. Pearson, when asked for his ideas on the subject, stated that revolution is but an integral part of evolution, and revolution occurs as a last resort against injustice.

The treasurer's report was presented by Dr. Fulton Jackson, in which he stated that there remains a balance of $345 in the treasury of the chapter. F. G. Simonton presented the report of the historian, in which he told the work that the chapter has done in locating soldiers' graves and tracing family trees. Officers elected to serve for the coming year were announced.

Name Committees

Two motions were carried, one to enable the incoming president to appoint a committee of three men, to look after men in the county who are eligible for membership in the Sons of the American Revolution, and the others to trace the authenticity of the report that George Washington at one time passed through Lawrence County.

Before the meeting adjourned it was suggested by retiring president Charles Young that it would be best to select a monthly date on which the society could meet, instead of meeting but once a year. In that way, he declared, more could be done than under the present system. Mr. Young also urged the members of the Lawrence county chapter to attend the state-wide banquet, which will take place in Pittsburgh, Friday, January 20.

Those present were John L. Walker, A. W. Wall, A. D. Mornes, J. R. Cooper, Mrs. Luina A. Cooper, C. H. Akens, Mrs. C. H. Akens, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Duff, H. D. Harlan, Mrs. H. D. Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. McClelland, the Rev. P. C. Pearson, H. L. McKean, C. A. Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Drake, William J. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell, Annie E. Mitchell, Mrs. R. M. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Simonton, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Young, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. (Continued From Page One)

the hour of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's arrival neared, enthusiasm reached a high pitch today among the thousands who have gathered to welcome the aviator.

Ten trains, operated free for the occasion by the government, brought thousands from cities, towns and villages in the interior. All roads led to La Sabana flying field and taxicabs, taking advantage of the great demand, charged four times their usual rates for the trip.

Lindbergh was expected between noon and 2 p. m.

GIFFORD GORDON TO SPEAK AT MEETING

The Woman's club of New Castle will have the first meeting of the New Year on Monday at the usual time in the main auditorium of the Highland U. P. church. The meeting is in charge of the educational department and they are starting the new year by having a nationally known speaker, Gifford Gordon of Australia. He will talk on one of the most vital subjects of the day, Prohibition.

Mr. Gordon has traveled 100,000 miles in the United States and 5,000 miles in Canada, talking on this subject. He is a strong believer in taking the truth about prohibition to the people instead of expecting the people to come to the truth. He has built his program accordingly and his success has been phenomenal. To date he has spoken to 350,000 American people. The Woman's club feels very proud of being able to bring a man of this type here and the public is cordially invited.

Mr. Gordon will be in this neighborhood about a week, speaking in the senior high school to the students one day. He will make New Castle his headquarters, going to Grove City, Franklin, Oil City, New Wilmington, Butler and Beaver Falls.

The Woman's club has extended special invitations to the members of the New Castle Federation of Clubs, the Ministerial association and the members of both the city and county W. C. T. U.

The regular business of the club will be transacted first. This is the time for the first reading of names of new members.

N. H. B. Kensington

Mrs. C. C. Copper, Mulberry street will entertain members of the N. H. B. Kensington, Tuesday afternoon instead of Wednesday as previously planned.

EVA FAY HELD OVER, FANS DEMAND IT

"Popular demand" is a phrase that has often been misused in the theatrical world. But in the case of Eva Fay who has been in the Capitol Theatre for the past three days the phrase is no misnomer. The Capitol management has persuaded this remarkable mind reader to remain for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The reason for the hold over is a real one. The Capitol can't accommodate all the patrons who want to see her. At the special woman's matinee held Friday afternoon, the theatre was crowded to the doors and several hundred were turned away because of lack of space.

In order to give every woman who wishes it an opportunity to see and hear Eva Fay, another special Ladies' Matinee will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00. Plan for it now.

The picture for the first three days of next week will be Glenn Tryon in "A Hero For A Night" which concerns a non-stop flight from the United States to Russia. Two other vaudeville acts will follow Eva Fay.

Annual Automobile Show Opens Today In New York City

All Makes Of Cars Vastly Improved And Lower In Price; Dazzle Buyers

Termed Most Spectacular Auto Show In History Of Metropolis; Cars For Everyone

By SYD HUGHES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The automobile industry went on parade today—and the "war" begins on Monday. Sleek and shiny, dressed up with more frills than Haynes, Winton and Duryea—pioneers of the automobile industry—ever dreamed of, forty-three makes of cars with scores of models go on display this afternoon at the Twenty-Eighth Annual Automobile Show in Grand Central Palace.

Today it's a parade of glorious vehicles, but the warfare for business won't begin in earnest until Monday. The salesmen are on hand today but there won't be much business from "ohs" and "ahs."

Prices Are Slashed.
Never before in the history of the automobile industry has there been so attractive a display of cars, and never before has there been so attractive a display of price-cuts. Prices have been slashed right and left during the past week—price cuts ranging from $60 to $600 have been announced on more than a dozen different models and there are more cut prices in the offing.

The man who wants to buy a car must be in bewilderment, for the whole industry seems to have turned a "flip-flop" and the old standbys are replaced by entirely new and unrecognizable models. There are forty-three makes on show and of these there are twenty-one models that are so completely new that only the name plate is recognizable even to the old-timers.

The range of prices has been graduated to fit practically every pocket-book in the land. The Whippet offers a car for as low as $485 and for the grand-dame or the man who has made a lucky strike in the market there is the custom-made Cunningham, which runs into $9,000 or more.

High Radiators.
Four wheel brakes are no longer a novelty. Everything in this show has four wheel brakes.

In design the tendency is towards the European high radiator—a type made famous in Europe by the Hispano-Suiza designers.

In equipment everything is thrown in. Dash-boards are a-clutter with all sorts of gadgets, and labor saving devices—oil gauges, gas-gauges, battery gauges, clocks and every bit of accoutrement necessary so that the driver may sit at the wheel and have practically every part of the car under the control of his hand.

One car even displays a flexible body, which to an initiate offers a fine suggestion for gentlemen who are gaining avoirdupois and find difficulty in sliding in behind the driving wheel.

Nervous drivers may get a shudder by going to the upper floors where there are new lines of bigger and stronger trucks—and woe be to the shiny fenders of the sedan that attempts to give battle to the newest truck.

All-in-all this is the most exciting automobile show that has been seen for some time, and the man who goes to this show and comes away a non-owner must be either deaf, blind or destitute.

Henry Ford is running his own show in Madison Square Garden, displaying all the latest models of his product.

TO START ARRESTS FOR VIOLATIONS OF MAIN STOP RULE

"The police are now making a check of those persons violating the main thoroughfare stop regulation," said Chief of Police Henry Dysart this morning, "and we have found that many motorists are failing to take notice of the stop signs placed at those streets designated as main thoroughfares."

"I would take this opportunity of reminding the motorists of the city that failure to observe the main thoroughfare stop regulations on and after the first of the week, will mean payment of fines and that the fine imposed will be increased. I hope they will remember this and assist the police by stopping before crossing or entering the main thoroughfares of the city."

Traffic Lights Must Be Observed

"The lights of the automatic traffic regulating signs will mean just what they are intended to mean and nothing else from now on," said Chief of Police Henry Dysart this morning, to a representative of The News.

"We have come to the conclusion," said Mayor William H. Gillespie, "that there is no longer any use in interpreting the lights of the automatic traffic signals and motorists may govern themselves accordingly."

"We would urge both motorists and pedestrians to understand the lights of the signals as follows," continued the chief.

"Red means to stop, green to go and the amber light, get ready to go. This means at every point where these traffic regulators are in use. There will be no exceptions made in the future on these regulations, regardless of the place, where the regulators may be located."

self ill-fitted for the practical affairs of life when his formal training is done.

"At a small cost men are educated to make leather into shoes; but at a great cost what am I educated to make?" asked Carlyle. The world needs intelligent men and women more than educated persons. The two are not synonymous.

Often education is but the amassing of facts. Intelligence is a matter of wisdom and of attitudes.

An education is nothing but the tool for intelligence to work with.

The following tests to distinguish the intelligent-minded from the inferior-minded may be of help:

I. The inferior-minded demand cheap miracles and marvels. They do not see the eternal miracle of everyday life. Emerson said that fools admire the extraordinary, the wise man admires the ordinary.

II. The inferior-minded set great store on consistency and will sell honesty to obtain it. They cling to an original error, "proudly cling to their first fault, and wither in their pride."

III. The inferior-minded judge by the gilded husk or the outside appearance. The trappings, rich bindings and high prices outweigh what is the meat of the matter. They like lots of color in their clothes, noise in their music and action in their stories. The simple evades them.

IV. The inferior-minded judges an utterance by the author. If George Washington or Abraham Lincoln said it, it is all right. They don't think much of a truth if it comes from a bootblack.

To the intelligent-minded truth is truth, no matter what part of the woods it comes from.

The inferior-minded under-rate their own opinion and over-rate that of others.

"What a superior man seeks," says Confucius, "is in himself."

School Officials To See Buildings In Fulton County

Reports Indicate That They Have Been Constructed At A Great Saving

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling and Slippery Rock township school directors expect to make a trip to Fulton county sometime next week to see two school buildings that have recently been built in that county. Slippery Rock township is expecting to build a new high school building next summer and the object of the trip is to get pointers.

Decision to make the trip was decided upon after Superintendent Syling and received from the county superintendent of Fulton county plans of eight and a six room building which were recently constructed at what looks like a very good price.

The eight room building built of brick and tile, containing auditorium, class rooms, gymnasium, hot water heat, plumbing system and everything modern was constructed for $21,000 according to the letter of the Fulton county superintendent. The six room building, brick, all modern, was erected for $15,000.

Superintendent Syling and the Slippery Rock directors expected to be able to secure valuable data, as to just how the buildings were constructed at such reasonable prices.

The Authoritative Christ Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

HE HATH DONE ALL THINGS WELL: HE MAKETH BOTH THE DEAF TO HEAR, AND THE DUMB TO SPEAK.
MARK 7:37

Reading this first chapter of Mark in the revised version, the Bible student must be struck with the recurrence of its 11 "straightways": "straightway coming out of the water," "straightway the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness," "straightway he called them," "straightway on the Sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught," and "straightway there was in the synagogue a man with an unclean spirit"; "and the report of him went out straightway everywhere"; "straightway they came into the house of Simon's wife's mother"; "straightway the leprosy departed"; and "straightway he sent him out." This is a fair sample of Mark's story of the ceaseless activity of Jesus Christ as the Servant of God. The story throbs with the note of intensity.

Authority in the Realm of Doctrine
Not only was Christ's life and ministry one of intensity, but also one of compelling authority; "and straightway on the Sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught. And they were astonished at his doctrine; for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes." His was not the authority of any ecclesiastical office, for he had no such office. He had but recently come from the carpenter's bench and yet the universal verdict was, "never man spake as this man." He cited no authorities as did the scribes. He said, "Verily, verily, I say unto you." And his words struck home with the authority of a holy character which like a sounding board amplified all his teaching with compelling authority. He was, indeed, the personification of Truth, as he said, "I am the way, the truth and the life." Within the scope of the incidents Mark records in this chapter occurred the preaching of his Sermon on the Mount which Mark does not record. Before this masterpiece all the world bows and says, "He teaches as one having authority."

Authority in the Realm of Disease
Again Mark shifts the scene to show Christ's authority in the realm of disease. From the synagogue he goes to the house of Simon Peter where Peter's mother-in-law is held in the throes of what the physician Luke calls "a great fever," and he came and took her by the hand and raised her up, and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them." Here again is the note of authority.

The End of a Perfect Day
That same evening at sundown the sick of the entire city were carried to his door and with like authority he healed them all. Thus the day ended, and what a day it was of teaching and triumph! How much he had accomplished in a single day! And if one seeks the secrets of that day's accomplishments he may find it in Christ's preparation for the next day's work; "and in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed."

(The International Sunday School Lesson for January 8 is Mark 1:21-45, the subject being "Jesus and the Golden Text, Mark 7:37. 'He hath done all things well; he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.'")

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FREEDERICK SMITH VINCENT

A BOX SEAT
"Right again, as usual, wife of mine," said Father Blue Jay, nodding approvingly at his mate. "If it was not for you, my dear, I do not know how the rest of us could get along." Turning his head, he spoke in an aside to Peter.
"She's a wonderful bird, my mate! Keeps us all in order—doesn't let us forget a thing. Between you and me, she is really the head of the house, although it would not do for a moment to let her or the children know it. A male bird must be master in his own nest, I say! And she has the greatest beak for nuts! Frosts and bare trees do not scare her one bit. She can go out and pick them up when ever I feel a bit discouraged about where the next meal is coming from. Now if you do not mind slipping down from my back I will preen my feathers. I always need the daily dress rehearsal, you know."

"Indeed, I do not know anything about it," declared Peter, uneasily, "and to tell the truth, I do mind getting down from your back. I have managed to keep warm here by snuggling down among your feathers, but now you tell me to hop on a bare branch that is all exposed to the wind; a branch which this very minute is rattling in the chilly breeze. Why, I should freeze to death! As it is, the cold has brought tears to my eyes, and running down my cheeks they feel like icicles."

"You brought me way up here out of a nice warm bed, and what for I should like to know! My coming did no good at all—even your eldest son has taken back the promise he gave, and your other children wouldn't make any resolution at all. Even you and your wife have decided that you and all your family shall go right on being robbers as you always have. Br-r! No, street! I shall not perch myself up here to be blown into a snowdrift by the first gust of wind, or to be turned into a piece of ice by the frost. I shall stay right here where I am and you may take me home!"

"Dear! Dear! Dear!" chirped Father Blue Jay, in dismay. "Now, please don't lose your temper, Boy. I meant what I did for the best. Besides, it will not do you a bit of good to get mad. While you are up here why not make the best of it? You may never have such a good chance to see what handsome birds we are again. Surely, you want to watch the dress rehearsal!"

"Well, of course, it would be very interesting, but I am afraid that I shall catch my death of cold," replied Peter.
His anxious tone had caught the quick ear of Mother Blue Jay, and now she spoke.
"What is poor Two-Legs worrying about, Father?" demanded she. "Is he cold? Or is he afraid he will be when he gets down from your back? Fetch him right up here where he can tumble off into the warm nest. There, sheltered from the blasts, he can watch you and the children at your maneuvers. I shall not fly this morning. I will stay on my perch and explain tactics to our guest."

"How very kind of you, Mrs. Blue Jay!" exclaimed Peter. "I shall be delighted to accept your invitation if your husband doesn't mind."

"Mind! I should say not! The nest is just the place for you. I wonder that I did not think of it myself!" cried Father Blue Jay, joyfully, and in the twinkling of an eye up to the nest Blue Jay had flown, and Peter hurriedly clambered down from his feathered seat into the downy softness of the house in the tree tops.

crete pavement, 18 feet wide, beginning at the end of the present macadam and extending from New Castle to the western edge of the village of East Brook. The new road will extend through East Brook with little change of location from the old road except at the bend near the Crowl garage, where the curve will be made less abrupt, according to the plans.

Just north of the Winder garage, where the road leaves the village of East Brook, the greatest relocation of the road will be made, where, according to the plans, the new road will abandon the old location entirely and take up over the hill through the farm of Mrs. Hanna Wilson, and after nearly a quarter of a mile of the new location will join the old location near the top of what is known as Wilson hill. This change has been made by the Highway Department to shorten the route and to eliminate the curve and heavy grade that would have been necessary if the new road should be constructed on the old location.

From the top of the Wilson hill the new road will follow the old location with the exception of straightening out the curves where the road crosses two small ravines. According to the plans, the two miles will bring the north end of the road almost flush with the point where the road turns east towards the farm of Frank Alborn, just beyond the former residence of Thomas Patterson.

On Wednesday evening of this week the county commissioners of Lawrence county meet with several property owners along the route at the McKee store in East Brook, and showed blue prints of the plans and received the signatures of all property owners present with the exception of one. There are still a few property owners concerned who have to be seen. Those who signed the agreement stated they were willing for the location of the road which adjoined their property.

LEHIGH CEMENT PLANT TO GET SAFETY TROPHY

New Castle Plant, One Of Ten Without Accident During Year

New Castle plant of the Lehigh Portland Cement company is one of ten out of nearly 150 Portland cement mills of the country that will receive a safety trophy this year, having gone through the full year of 1927 without a reportable accident.

The New Castle plant along with the other ten mills in the United States and Canada will receive the Portland Cement association trophy awarded each year to mills operating an entire year with a lost time accident.

The trophy consists of a cast stone safety monument which will be erected at the plant. These trophies are now under construction at large cast stone plants located in Chicago, New York and Montreal.

Twice as many mills completed the year free from accidents as have been able to do so during all previous years since the safety work began. In 1926 only two mills were able to win the safety awards. The record set in the year 1927 reflects the intense work done in the cement plants towards safe operation.

The other mills operating the full year without accident are as follows: Martins Creek Pa., and Ironton, O. plants of Alpha Portland Cement Co.; Cowell, Calif., plant of Cowell Portland Cement Co.; Hull, Que., and Belleville, Ont., mills of Canada Cement Co.; Bonar Springs, Kans. plant of the Kansas Portland Cement Co.; Iola, Kans., plant of Lehigh Portland Cement Co.; San Antonio plant of San Antonio Portland Cement Co.; Duluth, Minn., mill of Universal Portland Cement Co.

Abraham Lincoln, Drinkwater's Play To Be Presented Here

One indication that the students of the community are becoming more interested in the very best type of entertainment is the fact that over half of the second balcony of the Scottish Rite auditorium has already been reserved for students for Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" to be given next Thursday evening, and there is additional reason for confidence in the discrimination of the young people from the information that over two hundred seats have already been reserved for students of County schools outside of New Castle.

The Educational Art Society and the English Department of the Senior High School under whose auspices the company of New York actors is being brought to New Castle, feel confident that the entire second balcony will be filled with students. In addition to providing excellent entertainment for the students, there is no better way to give them an appreciation for good literature as well as a vivid impression of the troublesome times incident to the preservation of the Union. From the nice crowd that turned out to see "The Merchant of Venice" it is quite possible that the adult following of fine productions in the city, will fill the main floor and the first balcony which has been reserved for adults at a very reasonable price. Certainly this fine attraction should draw a full house of adults and students, for John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" is now an American institution.

Bessemer Girls Also Take Victory In Game With Mt. Jackson Friday Night

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Pa., Jan. 7.—The Bessemer High School boys and girls basketball teams were victorious in their games Friday night with Mt. Jackson High. The games were played on the Bessemer High floor.

The girls game proved to be an exciting affair with the Bessemer maidens far outclassing the first half by a score of 28 to 8, but they staged a whirlwind comeback in the third quarter and soon had the lead. Miss Farrell and Miss Glassell starred for the Bessemer maidens. The final score was 36 to 33.

The boys game was a runaway affair with the local tossers always in the lead. The score at the end of the first half was 31 to 17 in favor of Bessemer. Many of the Bessemer substitutes found their way into the game in the final half of the battle. Mack was the high scorer of the game with a total of nine baskets, while Snyder and Macklin tallied five buckets apiece, and Stanley kicked in with four field goals. For Mt. Jackson the work of Greider and Shearer featured. The final score was 52 to 20.

The summary:

1. The horizontal boning with reinforced coutil across the diaphragm provides healthful control.
2. The Corsette bends with the body—without pressure when figure is seated because of the V gore of elastic in front.
3. The belt slightly raised in front—moderates undesired thickness through the diaphragm.
4. Abdominal belt joins far enough back to insure essential support to the abdomen.
5. Elastic side inserts and vertical boning form the belt "that fits". Side hook.

THE NEWS ONE YEAR, BY MAIL $5

WILL START WORK ON BIG WAREHOUSE

Excavation will be started on Monday by the C. Ed Smith Hardware Company for a 4-story warehouse in the rear of their store on East Washington street, estimated to cost $50,000, according to announcement today by C. Ed Smith, Jr.

The building will consist of either three or four stories and will be of fireproof construction, using steel, brick with cement floors and at present will consist of three units 100 feet in length and a total of 60 feet wide. Later on it is planned to add to the building by 20 units 20 feet wide, the whole block 200 by 100 feet being available.

Mr. Smith says that the purpose of the building is to furnish store and ware rooms for their own hardware business as well as for rental as ware and store rooms, to other firms and individual.

The new building will be fittingly located for a ware and storehouse as there is a railroad siding 100 feet long on the east side of the proposed building and facing on Produce street it will easily be available for trucks and drays. Also it may be connected over the alley by an arch with the present building of the hardware company.

Contract for the excavating will be begun on Monday, says Mr. Smith. Within 10 days bids will be received for the remainder of the work. Mr. Smith says they plan to let contracts to local concerns if possible.

The building is being built by the C. Ed Smith Hardware Company which is owned by C. Ed Smith, Jr., and John Abel. They hope to have the building finished in the late spring and just as the demand grows from year to year additions will be built on the west side. Mr. Smith and Mr. Abel say that it seems to them that there is a good demand for storage rooms that are strictly fireproof and that their full capacity will be taken up readily and an extension will be necessary to the building.

Mr. Abel said that they had thought of also planning for a storage garage where cars could be parked by the hour, day or longer by business men and others, a ramp making it possible to use two or more stories for storing cars.

Permanent Roof Is Being Placed On New Dormitory

Work Is Progressing Well On
Dr. Robt. Audley Browne
Hall At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 7.—Workmen on Robert Audley Browne hall, Westminster's new dormitory for men, were busy today laying the tile roofing in order to protect the inside from the rain and snows. A temporary tar-paper covering has served until today, but with the rise in temperature which permitted workmen to handle the tile, the permanent roof was started.

The tile, which is the same as will be used on the roof of Old Main Memorial, is in a variety of tints and shades from purple and red to orange and yellow. This will give a touch of color to the stone work which in itself is rather colorful.

Work on the interior of the men's dormitory is progressing nicely. In all probability the building will be completed by commencement time in June.

MANY VISITORS
COMING TO BANQUET

EDWARD E. SPAFFORD

Not a post of the American Legion in the United States but wants to entertain the national commander of the organization. In Legion circles as in other organizations, it is considered a ten-strike to land the national head of the organization, and Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, has been able to do that this year.

Edward E. Spafford, who was elected as national commander of the American Legion in the Paris convention in 1927, will be the guest of honor at this year's annual banquet of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, which will be held in the Scottish Rite cathedral on January 26. With him will be State Commander E. E. Hollenbach of Philadelphia.

Because of the importance of the affair, the banquet has been made a district one, and every post in Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties is expected to be represented.

The banquet will be an open one; that is, the public can attend. With the spacious dining room of the cathedral being used, it is possible to accommodate a large crowd and women will attend also.

Ivor V. Davis has been named as ticket sales manager and is busy distributing them. Tickets can also be secured in the Legion Home on North Jefferson street.

Sharpville, Bertha Glenn and Mary Moore to Chewton, Fred Vincent to U. of P., Philadelphia, Carrie Powell to Grove City college, Hazel Moore to Slippery Rock State Teachers college and Florence Dunnington to Penn township, Allegheny county.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. George entertained the Clover Leaf club Friday evening. About 50 guests were present.

Dorothy Campbell and Elbert Kemm of Fredonia were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elder last Sunday.

The Christian Endeavor has elected the following new officers for coming year: President, Frances George; vice president, James Cooper; secretary, Mae Cooper; treasurer, Delbert Parquett; organist, Glendia Dight; assistant, Frances George.

Mrs. H. H. Humphrey, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is able to be out again.

All Efforts Being Made To Rid County Of Corn Borer Pest

U. S. Department Of Agriculture Using All Kinds Of Methods Against Pest

Fight against the corn borer is to be continued this year most vigorously, said A. F. Woods, director of the Scientific work of the United States Department of Agriculture in opening the conference held this week.

The fight will not only include the quarantine and clean-up campaign but also research will be made to see on what other plants the borer works other than corn and also the breeding of varieties of corn that are especially resistant to the borers and the study of parasitic and other deterring agencies.

Study of the best machinery for clean-up purposes and the perfecting of that machinery will also be carried on. Research work in this country and in Europe will also be made to find about the habits of the borer. In fact, everything possible is being done to rid the country of the pest that came upon us the past few years.

Predicts Air Lines For Pittsburgh In Very Near Future

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—William B. Stout, designer of the Ford all-metal airplane, predicted there would be five air lines passing through this city within a year after a new municipal airport is opened.

In making the prediction Stout revealed that the Stout air service, of which he is head, has plans under way to establish an air line from Cleveland to Philadelphia via Pittsburgh as soon as an airport is secured here.

Stout told the business men of this city he was unwilling to risk any of his $45,000 planes in the present landing field here.

Geneva Club To Meet On Monday

Banquet To Be Enjoyed In Dining Room Of Y.
W. C. A.

Professor J. C. Twinn, in charge of the extension work at Geneva college; Dr. James S. Martin, corresponding secretary of the Geneva Alumni association, and Messrs John Watson and DuWayne Shaw, students under Prof. Frank H. Hardman of Geneva's music department, are invited guests at the first local Geneva alumni club meeting to be held in 1928.

This is to be a meeting of the New Castle club, with a membership of approximately 200. An elaborate program has been prepared for this meeting which is to be held in connection with a banquet to be given in the spacious dining rooms of the New Castle Y. W. C. A. the evening of Monday, January 9. In addition to solos by Mrs. B. K. Thacker, Miss Helen Allen and Miss Ruth Drescher, members of the club itself, Prof. Twinn and Dr. Martin are each to speak at the meeting, the former as representative of the extension department which has approximately 100 students this year in New Castle and immediate vicinity, and the latter in behalf of the college and the Geneva Alumni association. Messrs Watson and Shaw are to be featured in solo and duet singing, Mr. Watson singing baritone and Mr. Shaw tenor. Both of these have already established a reputation for themselves. Mr. Watson is one of the soloists who accompanied the South Carolina university glee club on its trip to Paris last summer. His home is in Dillon, S. C. Mr. Shaw is a well known tenor singer who resides in Plaingrove, near New Castle.

Pennsylvania Is Centre Of United Presbyterianism

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—More than one-third of all the United Presbyterian churches in the United States are located in the State of Pennsylvania.

Of the 901 churches of the United Presbyterian churches of North America in this country in 1926, 323 were located in Pennsylvania, according to the census of religious bodies now being conducted by the Department of Commerce.

A report of the census made public today shows that these 323 churches had a total membership of 79,166.

Ten years before, in 1916, there were 339, or 16 more churches than in 1926, but the total membership was only 73,405.

United Presbyterian churches in Pennsylvania owned property in excess of $13,500,000 and the expenditures of 322 of these amounted to $3,236,517 in 1926, the survey shows.

Ohio ranks second to Pennsylvania in the number of United Presbyterian churches with 140 having a total membership of 25,390 in 1926.

The number of United Presbyterian churches in the United States decreased from 991 in 1916 to 901 in 1926, but the total membership increased from 160,726 to 171,571. Property owned by all these churches had an estimated value of $29,714,845 in 1926 and their expenditures in that year totaled $6,642,820.

STEBUNVILLE, O., Jan. 7.—Operators of the Wolf Run mine, this county, were reported to have reached an agreement today whereby the mine, one of the largest in the county, will resume operations on a co-operative basis. The mine has been idle since the coal strike began last April.

It is understood that operations will resume with the miners receiving 52 per cent of the profits and the company the remaining 38 per cent. Running at capacity the mine employs between 250 and 300 men.

How Are You Rated?

In the office of the New Castle Credit Exchange are cards for nearly everybody in New Castle and nearby towns—about 70,000 cards.

On the cards is indicated the manner in which you pay your bills—whether (1) prompt pay, (2) slow pay, or (3) "no pay". There are a lot more variations of the record, but the three just mentioned are the most important to yourself and the merchants of this vicinity.

Fortunately, there are a few people who do not pay their bills; there are more who have permitted themselves to be placed in the "slow pay class". We're glad to say that most people are prompt pay. In which class are you?

The New Castle Credit Exchange is a help to the individual who pays his bills promptly—has a clean record, and can get credit anywhere without annoying questions being asked. The merchant studies awhile when the Credit Exchange says: "The gentleman about whom you made inquiry is rated slow pay." No one will take a chance on the N C record.

The New Castle Credit Exchange was organized on November 22, 1926 and has saved the merchants thousands of dollars by preventing unwise credit risks.

the type that he hopes to broadcast to the public schools, will be given. Superintendents of schools, principals, supervisors, teachers and members of school boards are especially invited to listen in on this program.

This movement cannot fail to arouse interest in New Castle for our city is one of the very few in the entire country that have so recognized this need as to take definite steps to meet it. This has been done by the Educational Art Society through the initiative of Laverne E. Irvine.

While perhaps nothing else can take the place of the inspiration which the students receive through the actual contact with great artists, Mr. Damrosch's plan has the advantage of greater frequency of programs.

President Coolidge says: "Music is the art directly representative of democracy. If the best music is brought to the people there need be no fear about their ability to appreciate it."

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One of the friends of this colony, who is ever on the alert for strange and peculiar happenings with which to wet Pa's jaded appetite, reports that he has found a man engaged in the most peculiar business for this time of year. In fact, the man rents tents. And after Pa Newc had almost come to blows over the matter: Pa being skeptical, as usual, he let the cat out of the bag. The tents, it seems, are rented to undertakers to place over graves.

Plans have been launched, we understand, for another community banquet, to take place in the near future. Ever since Pa Newc has been in the city, he had heard strange and glamorous tales of the former affair, at which more than 2500 guests were seated at the same time. But, it has its sad features. Think of 2500 vests, all bespattered with soup, and think of the clutter made by 2500 knives, forks and spoons. And think of laughter Homeric which resound when some one made a quip.

Not to be outdone by Archie, the cockroach of Don Marquis, New Castle also has a pet animal, and it won't be long until he writes dirges and laments. He is over at the City Tool House, and, in this reincarnation at least, a grey mouse. Clerk Charles O'Brien calls him Reginald, and every day, he makes his appearance to feast on Irish apples, pears and potatoes. Reginald is a friendly little cuss, much addicted to crawling over one's shoes. But, some day, says Charlie, he will turn out a panegyric, free verse, on the habits and customs of mice. And he promises us to have first publication rights.

There are banquets and banquets, but the most enjoyable affair of all is the annual dinner of the Sons of the American Revolution. There one is dined with much aplomb, and the dinner is worth discussing in hushed whispers.

New Castle is on "the boom." That is what one of the ladies who attended the special matinee given by Eva Fay Friday afternoon tells. The augurer, it seems, believes strongly in New Castle, and believes that it is one of the chosen spots in which to make one's home. And that has always been our contention.

At last Diamond Alley is free of the water hazard which used to puzzle both motorists and pedestrians. A corps of sewer men, headed by Benny McFarland, have succeeded in cleaning out a catch basin, out of which they took tons of dirt. And now one does not have to jump a creek when he wishes to go into the Y. M. C. A.

Reports of a red bird being seen at Sunny Side brings the report this morning that two brilliant cardinals have been seen flying around over sections of the North Hill during the past few days.

The new Jameson Memorial hospital is going to be a most imposing picture to persons approaching New Castle from the west. It is located in a place where it can be seen a long ways by those coming towards New Castle from the west.

Plans for restoring street car service to the seventh ward and abandoning the bus line that now runs to the ward will leave Oakland without bus conveniences. Why wouldn't it be possible to operate a bus line to the Oakland center and back to the Public Square?

Despite the fact that New Castle and this area has experienced several days of near zero weather during the past week, the Shenango river did not freeze over. The water was too high and swift when the cold spell started.

New Castle's heart is certainly in the right place. Scores of responses were received by the police matron last night following the appeal that some family provide a nice home for a little two-and-a-half-year-old girl.

New Castle council should be planning for a continuation of the paving program that was started last summer. There are numerous streets in the city that are going to be much traveled as a result of improvements being made that should be added to the paved thoroughfares of the city during the coming summer. It is poor business to continue ashing and temporarily improving city streets that are much traveled. They should be permanently improved.

Pa Newc would like to be a spectator at the New Castle-Butler ministers' battle at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon. It's a shame that this sterling contest was not scheduled for this evening, when "us working-men" could get around to "cheer."

Notice, Odd Fellows
The annual meeting of the Temple Club will be held in the clubroom Monday evening, Jan. 9, at eight o'clock. Election of officers and any other business that may be brought up at this time. All members are urged to be present.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A reporter assigned to a recent downtown bomb scare tells me the story had its amusing aspects. When the secretary to the president of an important corporation opened the bundle, delivered casually by a messenger boy, he observed an eight-inch pipe protruding from the paper wrapping. The pipe was capped at both ends and two copper wires were attached.

"It looks like a bomb," said the secretary, referring to it, nevertheless, in the time honored way of secretaries, to the boss. The president decided someone must have sent him the package as a pre-holiday jest, but he sent for a policeman just to be sure everything was regular. "Sure, that's no bomb," observed the man of law, casually reaching for the pipe. All the executives in the room, summoned in for conference on the matter, made for the exits. One rapped his head smartly on the door, by accident, and the cop dropped the object hastily. When he realized the cause of the disturbance, he regained his superb composure and chafed the weakling heartily.

Presently an expert from the bureau of combustibles arrived, walking with stately tread. He swore, on observation, that here indeed was no bomb, and he cast grave reflections on the red-bloodedness of the assembled company. "Carry it over to the station for me, officer," he commanded, bluffly.

"Carry it yourself," was the pert reply of the law's representative. The pipe finally arrived at headquarters, where it was soaked in a pail of water. Then one official unscrewed the cap and poured out a little of the powdery content, while the rest stood at respectful distances, strategically prepared for quick departures. The brave investigator lighted a match, with a pinch of the powder between two fingers. A rather terrifying crash ensued, a sound rather like the blinding detonation of a Fourth of July plaything followed. It was harmless but exciting. No one was hurt, but a lot of them are said to be "pickin' 'em up and layin' 'em down" yet, as far as Spuyten Duyvil. And still the authorities insist it was a practical joke!

A girl motion picture critic had the nerve to ask for a raise on the same day her name appeared down toward the bottom of Variety's box score. P. S. I don't know whether or not she got the raise. The score, happen you don't remember, is a patient complication of figures on the part of the magazine's arithmetical expert, who checks up on the guessing-right ability of the hard worked cinema reviewers. If they are bright enough to prophesy correctly the box office value of certain important pictures, they get a high rating. Unconsciously, their employers are influenced by the results, published regularly in Variety, the bible of vaudeville players and other Broadwayites.

One term in show business I think is rather inexpressive is "nut," when used to mean the cost of running a theater. Also, on Broadway if a man is a candidate for the psychopathic ward, he is said to "have a couple buttons off his shoe." And an insane asylum is known, for reasons clear only to the initiate as "the dried raisin box."

The Way OF THE World

SOLVING THE RIDDLE

A strange substance called oocytin has been discovered by chemists at the University of California. With this substance the vital processes can be started in the eggs of sea urchins, a low form of life. The late Dr. Jacques Loeb of Chicago made himself famous in his tireless search for the very beginnings of life. He was hunting for the agent which starts the development process from the life cell. Oocytin may be the answer. Will the answer to the riddle of life be found in the laboratory?

POLITE CONVERSATION

It is not always easy to separate polite conversation from the cold statement of fact. When Henry Ford was introduced to Du Pont, of the General Motors, a few years ago, Mr. Du Pont said he would always be content to be second to Ford in the low priced car field. It isn't in the nature of any American business to be content to let any other similar American business be first in the field. And there is nothing healthier than sound competition.

WEIGHING THE EARTH

By means of some complicated instruments in Washington the earth can be weighed. The long accepted figure for the weight of the earth has been 6,660,000,000,000,000,000 tons. Weighed more recently it is discovered that the earth is lighter than had been supposed. It tips the scales at only 6,653,000,000,000,000,000 tons. Does that mean anything to you? At least you can rest your mind on it when you have been worrying about our income or other small figures.

KNOWING THINGS

The other day this column suggested a half dozen questions designed to test the general information of readers. To go to the dictionary or an encyclopedia or any other book of reference and fix facts in the mind is good exercise. Here are four more to look up if you do not already know the answers: Where was Joan of Arc burned? Why? What distinguishes a Corot painting? When was the "Golden Age" of Greece?

KINDNESS

Why not think seriously of adding a course in kindness to the curriculum of all grade schools and all high schools? Owing to inheritance and home training some young people are just naturally more thoughtful and kind than others. But kindness could be taught.

Over 500 Deer Shot In Mifflin County

More Game Believed To Be In Woods Than When First Settled

(International News Service)
LEWISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 7.—When the early settlers first set foot in Mifflin county's virgin woods they found less game there than now abounds in the region, natives here believe.

Thanks to restocking and the care given the region by the state game commission, almost limitless game yearly awaits the army of big game hunters who flock to the region. It is estimated that 507 deer were killed legally in Mifflin county during the recent 15-day open season.

Thirty-Three Adams County
Anglers Decide Fishing Season
Not Far Away

Thirty-three Adams county anglers decided to the contrary when they made application for 1928 fishing licenses here, months ahead of the season.

Details of Interest to all Motordom

THE new Hudson and Essex Super-Sixes come to the Automobile Show in completely new and arresting design, strikingly in advance, and at once brilliantly original and authoritative.

The full unity of their beauty is a swift impression, impossible to dissect; and yet a detailed study of the advancements is of interest not only to Hudson-Essex owners, but to all motordom.

Newness begins at the very front, in higher radiators on both Hudson and Essex—an effect that is further heightened by vertical radiator shutters. The motorometer has been removed from the front to the dash, and is now replaced by handsome radiator ornaments.

Lamps are of Colonial design, and are of the parabola type controlled from the wheel. Saddle lamps of the same type are mounted on the cowl by means of a crossing nicked band. Fenders are of new design, full-crowned and beaded along the edge.

All bodies are lacquered in duo-tones, and carry a moulding all the way around, and out the cowl and hood to the radiator.

The front pillars are trim and narrow. In standard models the visor is the military type.

All Essex models are larger and roomier than ever before.

The instrument board is finished in a polished ebony. Set into this background is the grouping of instruments, including the ammeter, oil and gasoline gauges, speedometer, and motorometer, all indirectly lighted.

The handsome new steering wheel has a steel core surrounded by ebony-black hard rubber and carries light control, hand throttle and horn button.

Hudson custom-built bodies are the Victoria, the Landau Sedan and the 7-passenger Sedan. In all of them, the front body pillars are notably slender. The windshield frames are nicked, so that the fronts of all three cars are quite distinctive and striking.

Body construction is of aluminum panels over a frame of selected hardwood. Lines are original and striking. Mouldings and color panels are employed to bring about distinctive effects. The rear quarters are finished in long grain landau leather, colored to match the upper body.

Four-wheel brakes are, of course, standard in both Hudson and Essex.

Money And Clothes Needed By Home Relief Service

Assistance And Co-operation Of People Sought In Relief
Work

Since the opening of the Home Relief service by the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, a lot of good has been done. Many families have been aided, clothes have been given to needy people and a lot of poverty has been unearched and assisted.

The service was inaugurated by Ex-Mayor William H. Dunlap, and to date the following is the list of materials given out: shoes, 235 pairs; men's coats and overcoats, 121; ladies' coats, 70; coats and vests, 64; pants, 89; stockings, 433 pairs; galoshes and overshoes, 433 pairs; babies' and children's clothing, 182 pieces; ladies' dresses, 176; sweaters, 71; raincoats, 10; beds, one, complete; boys' waists, 61; underwear, 142 suits; gloves, 10 pairs; bed clothes, 13 pieces, and 103 baskets were sent to needy families.

It is a big work that Mr. Dunlap has inaugurated, one that needs the co-operation and support of the citizens of this city. Money and clothes are badly needed and those people who are interested should get in touch with the service station in the room formerly occupied by the Kinney Shoe Store, on the Public Square.

Austria has just established an institute of advertising modeled on the lines of similar organizations in America.

Coal Mining Takes Toll Of 891 Lives

More Than 2,000 Fatal Accidents During Last Year,
Is Statement

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—The bureau of workmen's compensation received reports of 160,754 accidents, involving a time loss of two days or more, during 1927. W. W. Horner, the director, announced today. Of that number 2,064 were fatal cases.

The totals for the past year, as compared with 1926, show a decrease of 10.9 per cent.

Coal mining remained the most hazardous occupation in the number of fatal accidents reported. Anthracite mining took a toll of 502 lives and bituminous 389 during the year. There were 26,817 non-fatal accidents reported from the anthracite fields and 23,267 from the bituminous.

On a hazard basis manufacturing came next to mining, with a total of 400 fatal accidents, many of which were of minor character.

During the year compensation payments were authorized in 74,886 cases, involving a compensation liability of $13,343,469. Of the total payments $5,772,869 was awarded in fatal cases and $3,226,464 in permanent disability.

At the close of the year the records in the bureau showed an outstanding liability and permanent disability cases amounting to $41,477,508. Under the provisions of the law these unpaid obligations are to be made in weekly installments extending over a number of years.

Officials of the bureau estimate that the amendments to the compensation law which reduce the waiting period when compensation payments begin from 10 to seven days, will increase the compensable cases approximately 20 per cent.

Records of the bureau show that in the 2,001 fatal cases in which settlements have been reached the sole beneficiaries in 410 of the cases were widows, in 19 cases fathers, mother in 99 cases and fathers and mother in 117 cases. In 645 cases there were no minor dependents.

Beaver Falls High Defeats Ellwood In First League Game

Ellwood City High Basketball Team Forced To Accept 24 To 17 Defeat In Valley

Ellwood Girls Also Drop Contest To Beaver Falls High Maidens, 23-17

(By Tony Pasta.)
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 7.—Ellwood City high's basketball team traveled to Beaver Falls last night and was defeated in their first game of the W. P. I. A. L. season by the score of 24-17. The girls' team also lost their score being 23-17.

Coach Lee's cagers put up a good game and forced the Tigers to earn every point they copped. Beaver Falls held a very small margin as far as field goals is concerned, for the blue and white caged just one less than the valley five. But it was from the free throw line that the contest was decided. Ellwood made three out of seven while Beaver Falls was successful in getting eight out of ten.

Justice performed well for the blue and white, caging four field goals and one foul. "Huck" MacMurdo showed unusual performance by coping two pointers. Dunn caged one. Lee's five was kept busy at all times and only one substitution was made. Garda, flashy forward, was the Beaver Falls big gun as he alone piled up 14 points. In the girls' contest Irene Ross starred for Ellwood and Alkmyer for the valley maidens. The former sunk six field goals and three from the foul line.

Lineup:
Ellwood City: Beaver Falls.
W. King, F. ... Garda.
Lawrence ... Caplan.
MacMurdo ... Haggert.
Dunn ... Levine.
Justice ... Hendricks.
Substitutions: Preidoff for King.
Referee: Quadro.
Fouls: King 1-1, Friedoff 1-3; Lawrence 0-1; Justice 1-2; Garda 6-7; Hendricks, 2-3.
Field goals: MacMurdo 2, Justice 4, Dunn, Garda 4, Caplan, Haggert 2, Hendricks.

Many Attend Baptist Meeting In New Castle

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 7.—About 25 members of the local Baptist church attended the mid-year meeting of the Baptist association which took place all day Friday at the First Baptist church of New Castle. The speakers were excellent at all services and elicited high praise from their audiences.

William G. Evans of Burma, G. Clifford Cress, a field worker; Miss Gertrude Dr. Clerge, associated secretary of the Baptist Missionary society, and William Russell, state director of missionary cooperation, were the main speakers of the day. The evening session was conducted by the young people of the New Castle church and was highly successful.

(By WALTER VEON.)
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 7.—The interscholastic debating teams which will represent the Ellwood City high school in the Beaver Valley Debating league were chosen yesterday from a large field of contestants. After a close battle for the positions, the teams are announced as follows:

Affirmative: William Smith, Walter Veon, with Arthur Keller alternate. Negative: Miss Eva Puerello, Dominic Mundo, with Dallas Veon as alternate. Walter Veon and Dominic Mundo are the only two veteran speakers on the teams, the former having spoken on the negative team last year and the latter has participated in the Wampum debating league. It will be remembered that Ellwood City placed third in the Beaver Valley league last year but the 1928 teams are hoping to pass that record this year. Miss Dawson, coach of last year, and Ralph Schaffer, South Brownsville coach will guide the teams this season. Alternates on the teams are subject to change at any time if the alternate should prove himself a superior speaker to a member now on the team.

Lineup:
Ellwood City: Beaver Falls.
W. King, F. ... Garda.
Lawrence ... Caplan.
MacMurdo ... Haggert.
Dunn ... Levine.
Justice ... Hendricks.

Dog Owners Must Protect Their Pets

Dog owners who allow their pets to remain outside with no shelter in zero weather are liable to arrest for cruelty according to Col. W. W. Stevenson, president of the Shenango Valley Humane society. "It is shameful to allow dogs to roam around with no protection when the weather is touching zero," said Col. Stevenson. "The dogs suffer and the humane society intends to see that the practice does not continue. We would urge that dog owners take some means of protecting their pets against the inclement weather otherwise we will have to act in the matter."

Many Families Would Provide Home For Girl

The laughter and smiles of contentment that have been marked characteristics of the beautiful little light haired blue eyed girl whom Mrs. Minnie McKibben, city police woman on Friday afternoon in The News sought to secure a good home, will continue and there is no reason why she will not bring happiness and sunshine to many in her life. Since the publication of the fact that the little girl was in need of a home there have been numerous calls at the home of Mrs. McKibben also at the police station and many of the people calling have been afforded the opportunity of seeing the little child. Between 6 and 7:15 p. m. last night Mrs. McKibben had just 21 calls any one of which she stated would mean a wonderful home for the little child. As in every instance of this kind it is a question of first come, first served and the possession of the little girl through life now lies between the first two who answered the call. If either of these families gets the child she will have a wonderful home and every possible chance in life.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Story Of Fort Phil Kearney—Part IX
Plot And Counterplot

LATE IN DECEMBER, 1866, SCOUTS CAME BACK TO FORT PHIL KEARNEY WITH THE STARTLING NEWS THAT FIFTEEN HUNDRED INDIAN LODGES WERE CLUSTERED ALONG THE BANKS OF THE POWDER RIVER AND THAT, AT LEAST FIVE THOUSAND WARRIORS WERE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF THE POST.

AMONG THE OFFICERS AT THE FORT WERE SEVERAL WHO THOUGHT THEIR COMMANDER SHOULD START A VIGOROUS OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE HOSTILES. INSTEAD OF WAITING TO BE ATTACKED. FOREMOST OF THESE WAS CAPTAIN FETTERMAN, A DARING, IMPETUOUS OFFICER, WHO CLAIMED THAT WITH EIGHTY TROOPERS HE "COULD RIDE THROUGH THE WHOLE SIOUX NATION."

HOWEVER, GEN. CARRINGTON'S ORDERS WERE TO PROTECT PASSING EMIGRANT TRAINS, TO HOLD THE FORT, AND NOT TO FIGHT UNLESS ATTACKED. BESIDES, THE NUMBER OF MEN REQUIRED TO MAKE A SUCCESSFUL RAID ON THE ENEMY COULD NOT BE SPARED FROM THE LITTLE GARRISON.

MEANWHILE THE CRAFTY RED CLOUD WAS PLOTTING WITH HIS CHIEFS TO LURE THE WHITE SOLDIERS OUTSIDE THE WALLS AND INTO A CUNNINGLY PREPARED AMBUSH, WHERE THEY COULD BE ANNIHILATED WITH SLIGHT LOSS TO THE ASSAILANTS.

Good Games Mark Playing In Church League On Friday

Three fast games were staged in the New Castle church league at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night.

In the first game of the evening the Temple Israel team defeated the First Baptists 24 to 12. The Temple team went into the lead at the very start of the game and held a 13 to 3 lead at the end of the first half.

The First Christians downed the First M. E. quintet 34 to 27 in the second encounter of the evening in what proved to be one of the best and hardest fought games of the league to date. The Christian team had a lead of 19 to 9 at the end of the first half, but the Methodists came through in fine style in the second half and outscored their opponents. "Bill" McLaughlin and S. Lockley led the attack for the Methodists with seven baskets between them.

The final game of the evening went to the Croton M. E. team by a score of 34 to 18 over the Mahoning M. E. outfit. The Croton team, led by Nolan who caged four baskets each half, was never in danger of being headed.

Second Boxing Venture In Neshannock Avenue

Open Arena Once Was Seen Of Boxing But That Was
Score Years Ago

Bill Jolly's pugilistic venture that will be staged in Neshannock avenue will be the second that has been attempted in that section, an open air arena having been the scene of fistic proclivities almost a score years ago, or during the days when Jimmie Dunn was cavorting in the featherweight division.

And when Jolly's first show gets under way Tuesday night it will be a coincidence that Jack Herman, Frankie Rio and Zivie Osborn, a trio of the battlers who will appear in fistic raiment will be managed by the former New Castle fighter.

Herman, a middleweight is scheduled to box Frankie Ritz of New Castle. Rio, a featherweight, will mix with Jimmie O'Donnell while Osborn and Jack Drake, lightweights will tangle. So far the opponent for

SORDS POINTS He Tried to Make the Cuba Bear

The saying "still water runs deep" might apply to "Hack" Wilson, the stocky outfielder of the Chicago Cubs. No one can say that Wilson is a flashy ball player, that his name should be mentioned in connection with some outstanding accomplishment, nor can it be said that he was not the inspiration behind the Cubs' offense last year, and the big reason for their surprising showing.

When the Cubs took their first tumble as a casual review of Hack's hitting made the reason known. When he was hitting, the Cubs were up there challenging. He completed the season with a .317 batting average and shared with Cy Williams, of the Phillies, the National league home run honors.

But the bat is not all with Wilson. He can run in spite of his clumsy appearance and can go them in the outfield.

He started out as a catcher in 1921 with Martinsburg in the Blue Ridge league, but the next year saw him in the outfield. In 1923 he hit .388 with Portsmouth of the Virginia league and earned himself a job with the Giants. He had a hard time connecting with big league pitching there and was released to Toledo in the middle of the 1925 season. He came to Chicago last year in the draft.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Bill Evans, new business manager of the Cleveland Indians, was rated as one of the most astute men in baseball during his 20 years as an umpire.

And in his new duties as executive of a ball club he has already given indications of possessing the same ability to cope with new situations as they arise.

For instance, there bobbed up right away the matter of delivering after dinner speeches.

Evans always has been popular in his home town and has always found himself called on now and then to yarn a bit wherever sport fans were gathered. But following on the heels of his advent as an officer of the home club Bill found himself in constant demand to speak before non-sports clubs, business gatherings, convention affairs, dinners, rallies and what not.

The first week or two in the role of speaker left him with his enthusiasm over Cleveland's chances undimmed but with his fund of short anecdotes and bits of humor being depleted—mainly because of the fact that he faced many of the same people each time under different banners and could not repeat 'em too many times.

He realized that to spill 10 or 12 of his fund of stories night after night would mean a dearth of them within a reasonable time.

So Bill hit upon an idea. The idea is a peach of a yarn—that takes from 15 to 20 minutes in the telling.

It gives Bill a chance to bring in a lot of baseball color, intimate bits about diamond celebrities, local color, etc. And gives the fans a big kick at the end.

He sprung it the first time at a post season football rally. When I teased him later of stalling by telling the story he laughed and said: "Don't queer me. As long as that story holds out I'm safe."

Issuance of naturalization papers to Hugo Bezdek, Penn State gridiron coach, a few days ago, is of more than passing interest. Bezdek joins the list of foreigners who have come to America as "the land of opportunity" and made good by their own diligence and perseverance. Bezdek chose a different course than most immigrants, however. He turned to sports rather than industry.

He came to America from Czechoslovakia when 11 years old. He became interested in the game his playmates were playing on the corner lot—baseball—and literally grew up in the game. He starred for years as a player in the big leagues, and then joined the ranks of major league pilots, later to turn his attention to football—as coach.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF NEW YORK MARKET

By W. S. COUSINS.

International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—For the sharp "corrective" reaction in prices of volatile speculative industrial and specialty stocks this week there was plenty of precedent even though the huge expansion in speculative borrowings helped the process. In a series of new three-and-a-half million share days, prices broke violently on the stock exchange, but in many recoveries were as spectacular as the declines and a few of the best price issues rose to above the best price recorded in 1927.

As might have been expected the money market furnished the principal cue for the stock market. Both the monthly compilations of the stock exchange and the weekly records of the federal reserve board showed an enormous gain in the so-called brokerage loans which are now up about a billion and a quarter dollar above the aggregate of a year ago. For the $22,000,000 increase reported this week, Wall street was inclined to credit the investment purchasing of dividend stocks in anticipation of dividend and interest distributions of governments and corporations and therefore not a factor to be reckoned with in determining stock prices.

Lower Prices Prevail.

It was also the general impression of the financial district that a considerable volume of liquidation and profit-taking held over from last year would pour in on the market in the first few sessions of 1928 and thus create a technical market situation favorable to a "campaign" for lower prices. The surmises of bearish traders were partially correct though they did not reckon on the strong underlying demand for stocks from investments sources which generally makes its appearance at times like the present.

The severest reactions of the week were registered in a few of the high flying industrial and metal stocks that have been driven up by the strong arm methods of the speculative pools on the strength of more or less visionary prospects which may or may not develop. It goes without saying that any relaxation of vigilance on the part of the pools is quite likely to cause a sudden collapse in the stocks they are sponsoring, particularly when selling prices cannot be justified by any of the recognized yardsticks of speculative valuation.

"Specialty" Stocks Decline.

For that reason 30 to 40 point declines in "specialty" stocks may be almost entirely ignored as a market factor. The facilities of the stock exchange were taxed to the limit on Wednesday and Thursday when transactions approximated 3,500,000 shares the second largest volume in history and exceeded only by the 3,800,000 share session during the "big sweep" of March 1926.

Visions of a repetition of that speculative squall with the possible wiping out of millions of dollars of equities held by small traders and marginal accounts in the brokerage houses, induced or forced heavy selling of stocks. Even with its abbreviated system of reporting stock sales the ticker ran 30 minutes behind the market and prices dropped so swiftly that it was virtually impossible for the outside traders to keep in touch with the situation.

Short selling of the steel and motor stocks resulted in fresh declines of 2 to 4 points in a number of the outstanding speculative leaders but the decline of call money to four per cent checked the downward movement near the week end.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY URGES QUICK REPORT OF CRIMES

All of us are prone to criticize peace officers, whether they be city, county or state, but there are times when the citizen himself is responsible for the failure of officers to do their duty.

In the past few weeks there have been a number of robberies and hold-ups in the outlying districts, a suspected incendiary fire has occurred, but in none of the cases were the county officials notified by those concerned.

In one instance of a hold-up the bandits were in the station for nearly 10 minutes and had their car filled with gas, yet none of the victims could give any intelligible description of the hold-up men or the number of the car.

Law enforcement is a matter not only for officers, but for the citizenry. Without the co-operation of the citizens no officer or set of officers can do much.

Whenever any crime of any sort is committed in this county, particularly outside the city limits, the thing to do is to call County Detective William H. Fleming or District Attorney J. Elder Bryan. Mr. Fleming is at the call of the citizens at all hours of the day or night, but he cannot be expected to make arrests hours or days after the crime is committed.

ABE MARTIN On Leaving Hope Behind

"I kin remember very well when wrongdoers left all hope behind when they entered prison," says Constable Newt Plum. Th' venerable constable knows crime an' criminals as perhaps no other sleuth in the country knows 'em, an' his close contact with th' underworld, coverin' many years, makes him a valuable authority on criminals. He further says: "Years ago when we chucked t' feller in prison ther wuz weepin' and wallin' an' farewells, messages t' loved ones, an' ev'rythin. Th' wife and children, or mother or father, or whoever th' criminal left behind, knowed they wuz losin' him fer good. Th' wife started right in t' git married again, an' th' children soon forgot they ever had a father. A mother would sometimes send a convict son a plug o' t'backer ev'ry week for a couple o' weeks, an' then she mourned him as dead, lost t' her forever. Ther's no hope left behind at prison doors t'day. Ev'ry criminal that's locked up expects t' be out in a few weeks an' they've got a right t' expect it th' way things are manipulated these times. I tried fer nine hours t' get Wesley Mopps t' tell me where he hid th' ax he murdered his family with an' he wouldn't tell me. He boasted he wouldn't tell me 'cause he expected t' use it agin after he wuz acquitted or paroled. He told his mother t' watch th' batteries in his car as he might want it any time. That's th' feelin' most of our criminals have t'day. Joe Lark's nephew who hammered his sweetheart t' death, stomped on his way t' prison, and ordered a suit o' clothes an' promised t' return fer a tryon. A bank bandit 'll bury eighty or ninety thousand dollars an' expect t' serve a year or two an' sometimes a defaultin' treasurer 'll stash a big pile o' money an' kiss his wife an' children good-by an' tell 'em t' be patient fer he'll be home in a few months, an' then they'll live like other people. These defaulters an' bandits kin afford t' go t' prison fer a little spell, fer they couldn't make fifty or sixty thousand dollars in a lifetime at liberty. These criminals don't only hope t' git out, they know they'll git out an' why shouldn't they? Th' only thing that upsets 'em for a time is th' electric chair, but they git t' realizin' they kin beat it. O' course a criminal ought t' have a farm or some town property, or some money buried, so he kin hire a gilded criminal lawyer or two, but even if a murderer is down an' out he's purty sure t' git paroled in a short time if he kin git enough kind-hearted women interested in his plight. But it's been many a day since even an ax murderer left hope behind when th' prison doors clanked behind him. I sometimes think that criminals like t' go t' prison an' meditate on what they'll do when they git out."

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A storm wave of moderate intensity will be expected to cross continent during the week centering on January 10. This storm wave will be of the cold breeding variety; a slight warm wave just preceding storm center but moderate cold wave centering on 8 and a rather severe cold wave centering on 12. Storm waves of January are expected to travel farther south than is usual during this month and as the average January storm wave of moderate or severe intensity moves well down into central great central valleys, this will mean that the storm waves centering on January 10, 16 and 25, 1928, will be expected to travel down to southern tier of states, probably to Gulf. Near 16 and 25, I expect rather severe weather in western cotton belt. These January conditions will cause extremes of unusual severity near and just south of the Great Lakes, in an area where the largest acreage of winter grains ever known has been sown for 1928 harvest. Heavy winter kill, however, is not expected in this area, as rather heavy precipitation will furnish deep covering in most of northeastern great central valleys, which include this area. When spring opens up it will be found that greatest damage to winter grains from freezing out will have occurred in western parts of great central valleys, on western plains and on high, rolling ground of northern great central valleys. About or a little above normal precipitation is always favorable for winter grains; with good covering, very low temperatures would be necessary to cause material damage unless covering was in the nature of ice. January temperatures are expected to average generally below normal with lowest temperatures occurring in northeast quarter of continent, sections 2 and 4 and east parts of 1 and 3. A general increase in precipitation will occur during the month; greatest increase in section 6, eastern cotton belt; heaviest precipitation of month on north Pacific slope and in vicinity of Great Lakes.

Explanations. One peculiarity of North American weather is the great difference between weather features east and west of the Rocky mountains. Very seldom do storm waves that originate

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Now and again there appears in various newspapers arguments for a standard calendar, one that will contain just four weeks in it, one that will start every month off on Sunday. The League of Nations is now taking the matter up and we can expect some sort of recommendation some of these days.

The idea has its points, sure enough, but there are some questions that would have to be settled. For instance, rent. Would that mean an additional check every year for rent? And on the other side would it mean another monthly check for men and women who are on monthly salaries?

Would it mean an additional monthly payment by the lad who is buying an automobile or a radio? The clerk who makes out monthly reports fears that he would have another report each year. But on the other hand these special month lads would have another one in which to tell us what to do. Eat an Apple month, or Read a Book month, or Pay Your Mills month, or Wash Your Neck month. The idea lends itself readily to unlimited possibilities.

The Friday Feeders welcomed a new member yesterday. Attorney S. F. Underwood was present. Some of the regulars didn't show up and among them were Jamison, Weingartner, Long, Matthews, Gordon and a lot more. They can't be threatened with expulsion because there are no rules.

Well, New Castle high school's basketball squad got away to a flying start in the W. P. I. A. L. last night. Now if they can just keep that stride up, perhaps another trip to State College for the finals will be forthcoming.

Did a little roaming this morning down around the seventh ward to see the Fair of the Iron Horse showing in three special cars on the B. & O. Well worth seeing.

Game Protector Frank Johnston was in Friday all decked out in a red cap that looked like an advertisement for a fire alarm company. Just a protective measure against some wild-eyed hunter from shooting him full of holes.

Frank has secured 20 coons which are the property of the Lawrence County Coon Hunters' association and as soon as the season is over the fuzzy animals will be released in the Lawrence county woods.

Coon hunting will soon be at an end for another year, but with 20 young coons released, next season should find some good hunting for the boys.

So far as the records show only six men of the thousands who volunteered for service under the American flag in the war against Mexico in 1846 are now living.
